

My Bowling Diary

Strike out with information... don't spare the details!

February 2005

(This newsletter is designed to help keep you informed of current developments with MyBowlingDiary. If you have any questions, please send email to info@mybowlingdiary.com.)

What a busy month for us at MBD Solutions! Not only did I bowl the Pro Tour Qualifier at the PBA Geico Open in Phoenix (where I didn't bowl so well, I'm afraid) but we also released a maintenance update for MyBowlingDiary. In addition, we are on the verge of releasing MyBowlingDiary 1.3.

“Spread The Diary” Sweepstakes

We recently held our drawing for the “Spread The Diary” sweepstakes. Five people were selected to receive a free copy of MyBowlingDiary 1.2. The winners have already been notified, and we have posted those names on our website.

Upcoming Releases and Enhancements

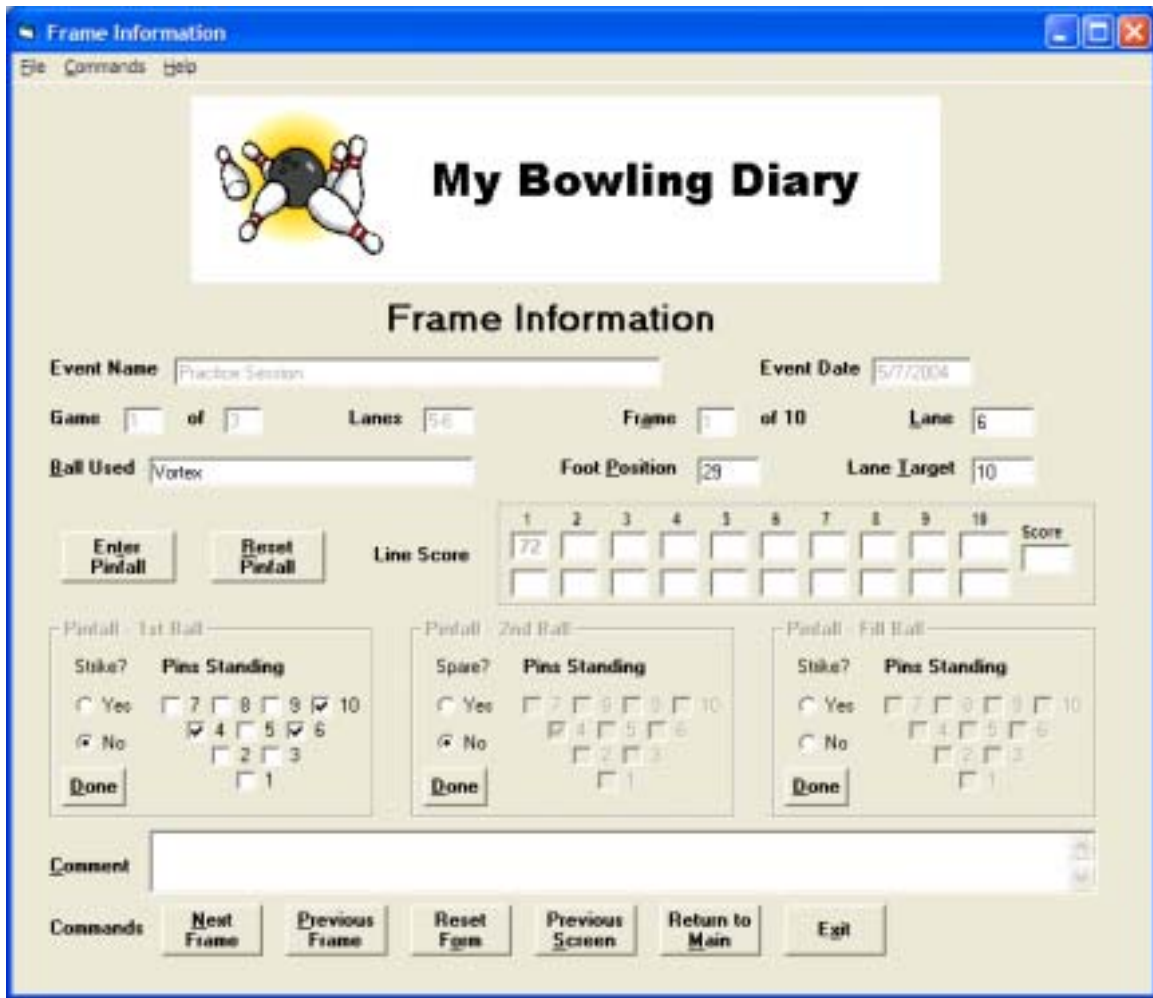

Current Version

The current shipping version is version 1.2.3 which was just recently released. All current customers should have received a notification of this update. If you did not receive the notification or if you need more information please contact us via support@mybowlingdiary.com.

Future Versions

MyBowlingDiary 1.3

MyBowlingDiary 1.3 is currently in “beta test” mode. What this means is that some customers are actually running and testing this new version. In response to feedback from customers and users of the trial version, we are revamping the frame entry screen. This is a sneak preview of what it will look like:

For those of you that are familiar with MyBowlingDiary, this is a significant change from the current release. Some highlights:

- You are given the option of entering either the full pinfall or the line score (this option is selected when you enter the game information)
- The “Enter Pinfall” button, when clicked will give you an instructional dialog box, then allow you to enter your pinfall with fewer mouse clicks
- The game score will be calculated based on the line score, and compared against the game score. If there is a discrepancy between the game score and the calculated score, you will be given the option of selecting one or the other.
- The “Reset Pinfall” button allows you to edit the pinfall that was already entered.

In addition to the frame entry screen, we are also revamping the reports to include more statistics.

MyBowlingDiary 1.3 is scheduled for release by the end of February. This will be a free update for our current customers. If you would like more information on this release of MyBowlingDiary please contact us via info@mybowlingdiary.com.

MyBowlingDiary 2.0

MyBowlingDiary 2.0 is our product that will feature an interface for handheld devices (see our August 2004 newsletter – http://www.mybowlingdiary.com/newsletters/Aug_04_Newsletter.pdf). This is still in development. As previously stated, we are targeting release of MyBowlingDiary 2.0 for the summer of 2005.

If you have any questions about current or future releases of MyBowlingDiary, please send an email to info@mybowlingdiary.com.

Marketing News

Referral Program – For those of you that are familiar with our Referral Program, you will recall that we offered a $10 referral bonus in late 2004. We have decided that we are extending the $10 referral bonus to March 31, 2005. Please see http://www.mybowlingdiary.com/referral_program.htm for more information.
